The Spirit blowing through the churches."*

THE MESSAGE, REVELATION

I am excited to introduce you to a new service, the WIND Project, offered by Chicago Christian Counseling Center (CCCC). The goal of WIND is to place Christian licensed counselors in as many church sites as God, in His grace, provides.

Each counseling site is managed by a professional site facilitator committed to maintaining a healthy working relationship between the church site and CCCC. Because space is so valuable CCCC donates a percentage of the fees collected to the church site and, in addition, offers free seminars on popular topics from a Christian, mental health perspective.

We believe that WIND combines many of the visions CCCC has always valued:

- A collaborative relationship with churches
- Good stewardship of the funds entrusted to us by our donors
- Making professional Christian counseling available wherever God leads

WIND's vision is to support churches as God provides guidance, so that communities will look to the church for professional Christian counseling in addition to all the help churches currently provide. God has richly blessed Christian professional therapists with special knowledge, skills and training – our goal is to make these services conveniently available to those seeking counseling or education.

Please explore our website www.chicagochristiancounseling.org or call (800) 361-6880. CCCC has been providing counseling services for over 35 years. Our commitment has always been to provide Christian professional counseling wherever God leads. The WIND Project is an increased focus on that commitment. We certainly know that there is a need for wise counsel throughout the world and that The Spirit of God, as always, works through His Church.

Looking forward...

I want to share with you the exciting future plans for Chicago Christian Counseling Center - you can help make them a reality! Our goal is to structure CCCC in the next three years in such a way that at least half of our Annual Fund income goes into our Stephen Fund, which assists clients financially.

For this year, CCCC is faithfully moving forward in the following areas:

- New Counseling Partnerships with Churches. The WIND Project allows CCCC to serve more people and be good stewards of our financial resources.
- Debt Repayment Program. A three-year program designed to pay down the Center's debt, thereby freeing up funds for clients needing financial assistance.
- Annual Fund Challenge. Addresses this year's needs of $132,000 to cover overhead and offset reduced fee revenues of $10,000 per month.
- Stephen Fund Need. Our Stephen Fund provides direct fee support in special circumstances where a person has little or no financial resources—unemployed or underemployed, no health insurance, no family or church support.

"I have been to a secular counselor...Only when I worked with one of your staff did I begin to understand the depth of the pain I have lived all my life. As I understood, I could then begin to 'turn it over' to God and confess my part in the issues that plagued me. I continue to journey toward wholeness in Christ"

- Single mom CCCC client

"It is a privilege to help clients process their lives and uphold or challenge their spiritual growth as they come to an understanding of God's direction at this most difficult 'turning point' in their lives."

- CCCC Counseling staff member

Bruce Frens, Executive Director
